DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings were received on 11/16/05. These drawings are not approved. The arrows on both ends of every line of the diagram in Figure 8 would result in new matter. While the specification mentions a feedback system, this is not support of each part having feedback to the processor and for the processor feeding signals to every part in Figure 8.
2. Because the replacement drawings were not approved, the other objections raised to the drawings in paragraph 2 of the first Office Action mailed 5/11/05 remain.
3. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the features of claim 21 (feedforward by a shock absorber) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

5. Claims 21 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Since there is no illustration or description of feedforward with a shock absorber, the skilled artisan would not be able to make from the disclosure.

6. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

7. Claim 23 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 23, it is not clear from the disclosure how additional feed forward is done by taking up excess fluid (this is not disclosed in the specification).

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed 11/16/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

On page 15 of the remarks, the applicant argues that feed forward is at least inherent on a system incorporated with a mechanical shock absorber, and that feed forward is shown by different compression of the shock absorber on opposite sides of the frame in Figures 1A and 2A. However, this would not result in feed forward. As even pointed out by applicant's own Exhibit A (Wikipedia), in the second paragraph on page 1, a prerequisite for feed forward control is that the time it takes for the disturbance to affect the output must be longer than the time it takes for the feedforward controller to affect the output. This would not be true in applicant's invention, even with an electric controller, as the system is already affected when the shock absorber moves or is disturbed. Hence, contrary to the definition in applicant's own exhibit, the disturbance's affect on the output is not longer than the time it takes for the feedforward controller to affect the output.

While the applicant's remarks mention forward looking aspects on page 15 of the remarks, this is not what is claimed, and it is unclear how learned responses could be incorporated into the claimed invention (movement of the shock absorber) to result in a feed forward system (again, the disclosure is non-enabling). While the specification has been amended to include the subject matter of claim 23 (page 19 of the remarks), this is still not an explanation of how feed forward is obtained from the shock absorber (this becomes only a repetition of a non-enabling disclosure).

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 1-20 are allowed.
10. Claim 21 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 1st paragraph, set forth in this Office action.
11. Claim 23 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112 set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

12. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
